Zuger Kantonalbank

Visa Debit Interchange Fee

In the case of a transaction using the Visa Debit card, Zuger Kantonalbank may receive a so-called interchange fee from the acquirer (the company that enters into agreements with merchants on the acceptance of debit cards as a means of payment). This fee is used to cover the costs of processing the transactions, insofar as these are not already covered by the fees charged. In addition, Zuger Kantonalbank may receive contributions from third parties (e.g. international card organisations), in particular for sales promotion, further development of the product offering or as a contribution toward infrastructure costs.

For the Zuger Kantonalbank Visa Debit card, an interchange fee of between 0.20% and 0.31% currently applies for domestic transactions, while for transactions abroad the interchange fee ranges between 0.20% and 1.15%.

Changes may occur at any time.
