Zuger Kantonalbank

Review 2019

Wir begleiten Sie im Leben.

Very good 2019 annual result

Zuger Kantonalbank performed very well in the 2019 financial year. Profit amounted to CHF 74.7 million. At CHF 107.2 million, the operating result was just 1.0% below the prior-year equivalent. The non-lending business developed gratifyingly. In keeping with the bank's strategy, this now accounts for almost a third of total income.

Thanks to the very good annual result, a dividend of CHF 220 per share will once again be proposed to the Annual General Meeting.

Over the next three years, the bank's taxexempt capital reserve is to be used to pay dividends to shareholders. For the 2019 year, it will thus be proposed to the Annual General Meeting that the dividend payment be divided into two parts: CHF 145 will be distributed from retained profit and CHF 75 drawn down from the capital reserves. The CHF 75 component is tax-free for private investors domiciled in Switzerland.

Interest income remains under pressure

Negative interest rates are establishing themselves as a permanent fixture, weighing on margins. This is reflected in the lower net result from interest operations of CHF 147.6 million (–1.0% compared to the previous year).

In the year under review, Zuger Kantonalbank consolidated its leading position in the financing of residential property in the Zug region. The bank secured its long-term refinancing through the issuance of two bonds. It is thanks to this and to the favourable conditions in the interbank lending market due to negative interest rates that the bank managed to partly compensate for the decline in interest income.

Zuger Kantonalbank has been consistent in pursuing a circumspect risk policy. When releases are taken into account, value adjustments and losses from interest operations exhibited a slightly positive figure of CHF 18,000 (previous year: CHF –150,000).

Growth in asset management – decline in trading result

Thanks to persistent growth in volumes and earnings, the non-lending business has evolved into a key pillar of the bank's business, and now accounts for around a third of total income.

The result from commission business and services rose by 5.9% to CHF 49.1 million (previous year: CHF 46.4 million). The strategic measures taken by the bank to strengthen the asset management business are bearing fruit, and this area also benefited from the outstanding performance of equities in 2019.

The trading business was overshadowed by the decline in the interest rate advantage of CHF vis-à-vis other major currencies, and amounted to CHF 15.4 million (-8.2% compared to the prior year).

Rise in assets under management – cautious acceptance of new money

The customer deposits entrusted to us, predominantly in private and savings accounts, increased by just 0.3% to CHF 9.7 billion. As before, the bank is only passing negative rates on to customers sporadically in individual cases.

At 31 December 2019, assets under management stood at CHF 12.7 billion, an increase of 9.8% on the previous year. The performanceadjusted net change in assets under management amounted to CHF –30.5 million. The development of assets under management in the strategically important Private Banking area was solid, recording a performanceadjusted rise of around CHF 100 million net.

In the year under review, the volume of proprietary investment funds – expanded with the new ZugerKB equity and strategy funds as well as fund solutions for pension assets – developed very pleasingly. Thanks to a good performance compared to the market and our needs-oriented advisory approach, ZugerKB proprietary products are being very well received by customers. Fund volumes exceeded the 500-million franc threshold in the year under review.

Number one in real estate financing in the Zug business region

Zuger Kantonalbank was able to further expand its business of financing residential property in the Zug region. This encompasses above all the financing of owner-occupied residential property, which is a key anchor product for the bank as it forms the basis for long-term customer relationships. Mortgagebacked loans to institutional real estate investors have proved conducive to healthy growth. The volume of real estate financing recorded a rise of 5.0% to a new level of CHF 12.3 billion. Overall loans to customers developed accordingly, rising by 4.3% to CHF 12.7 billion. Total assets amounted to CHF 15.7 billion.

Very good cost-income ratio

Operating expenses recorded a year-on-year rise of CHF 1.1 million to CHF 100.1 million. The slight increase in personnel expenses (+1.5%) is partly attributable to the deliberate increase in headcount in property trading and the pensions area. Despite ongoing investment in digitalisation, general administrative expenses remained stable at CHF 33.0 million. While the cost-income ratio of 45.6% is slightly higher than the previous year (44.9%), it remains very healthy in a long-term comparison.

Capital base strengthened

Zuger Kantonalbank's strong equity base is a source of great security, and gives the bank welcome freedom of manoeuvre going forward. In the reporting year, shareholders' equity increased by CHF 26.8 million. The bank surpasses regulatory capital requirements very comfortably.

The proposed breakdown of the dividend distribution will see equity capital drawn down from the tax-free capital contribution reserve. However, this will be offset by an increase in voluntary reserves.

The leverage ratio – the ratio of the bank's core capital to its total assets – stands at a very good 8.0%. The ratio of available regulatory capital amounted to 18.2% as at the balance sheet date, which is high in an industry comparison. The year-on-year decline here (from 18.5%) is the result of a growth-driven increase in capital backing for the mortgage business.

Zuger Kantonalbank share

As per the end of 2019, the Zuger Kantonalbank share price had posted a year-on-year rise of 10.9% to CHF 6,320. Including the dividend of CHF 220 per share distributed in 2019, the overall return amounted to 14.7% in the year under review.

Outlook for 2020

Economy stabilising – political uncertainties remain

In 2020 we are expecting to see a stabilisation of global growth at a low level. Central banks will continue to provide generous support, and interest rates will persist at low levels. Trade conflicts and political uncertainties are likely to lead intermittently to market turmoil. Broad diversification across all asset classes provides protection against major fluctuations.

Zug real estate market retains strong appeal

The Zug real estate market will retain its leading position in Switzerland. Thanks to the considerable attraction of Canton Zug as a place to live, residential property will remain heavily in demand. At the same time, the volume of building permit issuance hit a tenyear low in 2019. The foreseeable supply of housing stock is set to remain scarce over the coming years, which should be reflected in further rises in the price of residential property. From a risk perspective, the rental apartment market also remains in a very healthy state: Canton Zug has had the lowest Swiss vacancy rate in this segment for more than ten years now. This currently stands at 0.6%, whereas the Swiss average amounts to 2.7%. The canton also remains attractive as a business location thanks to its offering of modern office premises.

Addressing a major concern with pension solutions

For the third year running, the number one worry for the Swiss – according to the Worry Barometer produced by gfs.bern – is retirement provision. Over the next few years, we will therefore be placing particular emphasis on the pensions area when providing comprehensive advice. With its pension solutions, Zuger Kantonalbank is aiming to become an even more expert and forwardlooking partner for its clients.

Two branches relocating

Zuger Kantonalbank is investing further in the modernisation of its branches. Over the next few months, two of its branches will receive a full makeover: In October we will be opening our Zug-Herti branch at a new location following the complete renovation of the Herti shopping centre. In Rotkreuz, meanwhile, we will be welcoming our clients to a newbuild on Luzernerstrasse.

Continuously expanding digital services

To supplement the comprehensive advice provided by our certified client advisors, we are continuously expanding our range of digital services. Clients who so wish will soon be able to get in touch with us via our new chat service. Modern user interfaces will make it even easier in future to execute banking transactions through our Mobile Banking app or to follow market developments via Yourmoney.ch. The tried-and-tested app of CrontoSign Swiss is likewise being updated, which will result in a further increase in the standard of security for the e-banking login.
